

It's Time to Renew!

Welcome Members to 2003!

With the start of a new year, the Veterinary Association of Canada is launching a new logo and look to reflect our continued growth as the leading professional association in the veterinary information industry. Since our inception, the Veterinary Association of Canada has become synonymous with high-quality information and intelligence with high excellence awards in all areas of expertise. 2003 promises to be another fantastic year, one in which truly enables you, your team, and business executives to get the biggest advantage. My friends in the industry are looking back at the challenges of the past year and saying that they will not be sad to leave 2002 behind. As we prepare to turn the calendar, everyone is looking forward to brighter times and even brighter smiles in the days ahead. We are in the process of upgrading our website. The revised web pages have a crisp new look and an improved organization. These changes are designed to better serve you, business leaders and visitors of our site. Please pardon our "dust" while we continue making improvements over the next several weeks. Until the entire process is complete, you will find a mix of both old and new style web pages throughout the web site. Every effort is being made to ensure that this transition is a smooth one. I trust that the times ahead will be fantastic, and I wish you all the best for a very happy, healthy and prosperous New Year!
